

Institute for Justice
Education and Transformation
MULTICULTURAL STUDENT CENTER
UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-MADISON

SYMPOSIUM:
Race, Religion & Representation
Madison, WI • March 15-16, 2012

As a capstone to our year-long focus on Faith or Justice?: Ironies, Inequalities and Ideologies, the Multicultural Student Center and Institute for Justice Education and Transformation will be sponsoring a one-day symposium on Race, Religion and Representation. We invite you to get involved and submit a proposal for a performance, presentation or workshop.

call for submissions

intersections of race and ritual violence // intersections of religion, social justice, and the media // tensions within and between faith and justice movements // humanist, agnostic, polytheistic, and atheist approaches by people of color to religion and/or justice // race, religion, and the body (i.e. sexuality, gender, ability) // the role of secular and religious sacred texts and other symbols.

DOWNLOAD THE SUBMISSION FORM AT:
HTTP://MSC.WISC.EDU/SOCIALJUSTICE/R3SUBMISSIONFORM.PDF

Want to download the form right now? Scan the code below with your mobile device.

Deadline for submissions is Tuesday, November 15, 2011.

Please submit all materials to:
Donte Hilliard, Director
Multicultural Student Center (MSC)
Red Gym, Second Floor
716 Langdon Street, Madison, WI 53706
dhilliard@studentlife.wisc.edu

